

College of Counselling Studies New England Northwest

Management Committee Members

- Part-time ongoing position
- Flexible and supportive work environment
- Volunteer

Background

We are currently seeking community members with a range of professional experience and qualifications to join our Management Committee. As a committee member you will provide support and the benefit of your experience to the Principal and staff of the College of Counselling Studies. This position requires a friendly, courteous and proactive people who will undertake a range of committee duties in a team environment to contribute to the continued overall success of the College of Counselling Studies.

The College of Counselling Studies NENW has a rich history as a provider of training for future counsellors. Over the course of its history, hundreds of students have become counsellors and contribute to the many communities of the New England Northwest in a variety of diverse roles.

What you will be doing?

- Assist with the control and management of the affairs of the college
- From time to time lead sub-committees in performing specific tasks for the benefit of the college
- Promote the college within the community
- Assist with the development of the website and social media presence

About you

As a committed and dedicated professional who believes in the work we do in the College Of Counselling NENW. You will be able to demonstrate your proactive problem-solving skills and improve processes by identifying innovative and best practice solutions to ensure the delivery of quality counselling training. Your experience on the management committee will provide you with an opportunity to broaden your understanding of the NGO sector and enhance your own portfolio of business skills

Does this sound like you?

If you are a proactive, 'can do' person with a strong belief in the benefits of counselling for the general community, take pride and ownership in your contribution, have excellent attention to detail and want to be part of an organisation that works for the community, this could be your next volunteer role.

Please email your confidential expression of interest to Jenny Regan principal@ccsnew.org.au or telephone 02 6762 0844 for further information.